Mastering the Extremities and Spine the Wong Way
October 28-29, 2023

About this Program:

This course is designed to teach Chiropractors evaluation and adjusting techniques for all regions of the spine and extremities. To this end discussion of anatomy, common clinical conditions, and discernable patterns of subluxation in all body regions spans the 15 hours. Starting with the feet, the class works its way up through the lower extremity, the pelvis, the spine, shoulders, ribs, upper extremity, neck, and jaw. The importance of feet for whole-body stability is one of the core concepts of the class. When the arches of the feet have problems being too fat or too high, the body undergoes stress patterns, and a multitude of clinical ailments throughout the body may result.

This class teaches the Chiropractor how to analyze the patient, look for subluxation patterns, treat them and help their patients with home and lifestyle care. It involves hands-on examination/evaluation, modeling adjusting techniques, usage of physiotherapy modalities (i.e. cold laser, etc.), elastic taping protocols, and exercise procedures for all appropriate regions of the body. Dr. Kevin will also cover usage and prescribing ancillary products (custom orthotics, pillows, etc.) that are helpful for the patient and the practice. Risk management and ethical considerations will also be covered where appropriate when treating the spine and extremities.

About Kevin Wong

Kevin Wong, BS.,D.C., graduated in 1996 Summa Cum Laude from Palmer College of Chiropractic West. He graduated as Class Valedictorian with Clinical Excellence and Student Fellow Awards. He spent his first 4 years practicing as an Associate DC while teaching part-time at PCCW. He then established his own private practice with his wife, Dr. Isabel, which he continues to operate today. He has been a practicing Chiropractor and Continuing Education Instructor for 26 years. He has developed his emphasis in the feet, shoulders/ribs and the TMJ. Dr. Kevin's private practice utilizes a variety of adjustive techniques treating all age levels. His continued practice experiences influence and evolve the course material he teaches Chiropractors, CA's and students. Initially, Dr. Kevin's teaching in Chiropractic began as adjunct faculty for PCCW and the International Chiropractic Association. Then in 2004, Dr. Kevin joined the Foot Levelers Speakers Bureau. He has also spoken for Rock Tape. His program focuses on how the extremities of the body can affect the spine and whole-body stability. He is a frequently requested speaker on the topic of extremity/spinal adjusting, foot biomechanics, orthotics, and ergonomics and teaches over 120 hours per year in the U.S. and Internationally. He frequently writes articles for Chiropractic Economics, The American Chiropractor, and Dynamic Chiropractic. He also blogs for Foot Levelers. Dr. Kevin practices full-time in the city of Orinda, located in the East San Francisco Bay Area. He lives in Walnut Creek, CA with his wife and kids.
